“Torrington has growing challenges, and there is more than enough need here and in the surrounding communities,” said Jeff Lalonde.

“We hope that the Community Foundation continues to grow and attract donors who can help meet those needs.”
Jeff and Susan Lalonde have lived and worked in the Northwest Corner of Connecticut for many years, Jeff as president of Torrington Savings Bank and Susan as owner of a graphic design business. Devoted to community and highly involved with local nonprofits, they met each other through their service on the boards of the Northwest Connecticut Chamber of Commerce and the Torrington-Winsted Rotary.

“The community provided a livelihood for us,” said Jeff. “And, it’s provided a good life for us, friends and relationships.”

In 2003, Jeff and Susan were newly married and settling into a new home in Goshen. They found that they had the means and the desire to give back to their community and the nonprofits that had brought them together.

“We had always given our time,” said Jeff. “And, that’s valuable too. But, now we were in a position to make a one-time financial contribution. Instead of giving it to one organization, we thought we would establish a fund, so we could give to many organizations for years to come.”

The Lalondes established the Jeffrey and Susan Lalonde Community Betterment Fund, a fund of the Northwest Connecticut Community Foundation.

Like the many donations of time and talent the Lalondes shared with their community for many years, the non-endowed donor-advised Jeffrey and Susan Lalonde Community Betterment Fund supports a wide range of programs that improve life for the residents of Litchfield County.

“There are so many good people in this community, and they have so much to offer,” said Susan.

“We admire those who come forward and work hard and are so passionate about working within local nonprofit organizations.”

Since it was established, the Jeffrey and Susan Lalonde Community Betterment Fund has awarded more than $35,000 in grants to 25 nonprofits providing emergency services, assisting veterans, supporting the arts, enhancing life for special needs adults, and assisting those struggling with hunger.

Through on-going gifts and prudent investment, the balance of the fund has continued to grow, enabling more grants each year.

“There are veterans and young mothers who come to organizations like FISH of Northwestern Connecticut for help because they are down and out, and they need to get started in their lives,” said Susan.

“To be able to support them is such a gift. There are happy endings to a lot of sad beginnings.”
The more than 286 funds with the Community Foundation address current and emerging needs in the areas of arts and culture, civic improvements, human services, health, and animal care and conservation, and put education within reach for local students.

DISCRETIONARY FUNDS are a powerful means for donors to enable effective giving where and when it is most needed. Grants are awarded in the name of the fund to nonprofits chosen through a comprehensive selection process administered by the Community Foundation Board of Trustees. Discretionary funds provide enormous impact in addressing current and emerging community needs, creating an unending philanthropic legacy for those who make these funds possible.

Long-time Sharon resident Khurshed Bhumgara was intensely involved in his community, serving as president of The Little Guild of St. Francis for the Welfare of Animals and on the Board of the Hotchkiss Library of Sharon. He served as a member of the Sharon Land Trust, Sharon’s Conservation Commission, the Sharon Web Site Committee and the Sharon Energy & Environment Commission, and on the Community Foundation Board of Trustees.

“He loved his community and derived the greatest pleasure from helping those less fortunate, especially children and animals,” said Douglas O’Connell, Community Foundation Trustee.

Khurshed knew he wasn’t always going to be here to care for the children and animals who benefitted from his generosity of time and spirit. He also knew he didn’t want to leave them without providing for their future. Before Khurshed passed away, he set in motion what is now the Khurshed Bhumgara Fund, a fund of the Northwest Connecticut Community Foundation.

Unrestricted and endowed, the Fund provides grants to Northwest Connecticut nonprofits when and where they are needed the most, and as an endowed fund, will continue to do so, forever.
FIELD-OF-INTEREST FUNDS enable annual grants to address specific issues within communities important to the fundholder. Based on personal philanthropic goals, fundholders determine grant recipient eligibility requirements—geographic area of service or specific community needs, such as arts enrichment, homelessness or the environment—and the Community Foundation annually provides carefully selected grants in the fund’s name that best reflect fundholders’ charitable goals.

DONOR-ADVISED FUNDS are a popular means for donors to create greater, longer-lasting impact in their charitable giving. A far more cost-effective and tax beneficial alternative to establishing a private foundation, donor-advised funds are often established through gifts of stock or other appreciated assets. Fundholders or their designated successors recommend grants to nonprofit organizations of their choice, while the Community Foundation manages all aspects of administering the fund and overseeing the prudent investment of the fund’s assets.

ASAP!, Pilobolus, American Mural Project, and Warner Theatre worked collaboratively to produce Ultimate Collaboration Community Project.

The Project brought together elementary school students interested in learning dance, mural painting and music. Participants worked for months with professional artists, musicians, and dancers to craft songs and large-scale paintings and to learn choreography.

“Every person, and especially every child in America should be exposed to the arts, not so they can become professional artists but because we know that it will enrich their lives and make them better, more imaginative, more creative, more productive human beings,” said JoAnne Torti, ASAP! Executive Director.

A grant from the Carlton D. Fyler and Jenny R. Fyler Fund, a fund of the Northwest Connecticut Community Foundation, supported the project that culminated in a full-scale performance with Pilobolus dancers and ASAP!’s multigenerational Community Dance Project dancers at the Warner Theatre.
Through the generosity of fundholders, fund advisors and donors, $3,982,320 in grants were awarded for programs and capital needs to support local nonprofits working hard to improve lives and strengthen communities.

Hands of Grace in New Hartford works with social services agencies to help individuals and families in our Northwest Corner who are experiencing a temporary financial crisis by providing them food, household products, and clothing.

“Often those experiencing a financial crisis are forced to buy low-quality food,” said Kiersten Schiffer of Hands of Grace. “This type of diet has been linked to health risks such as diabetes, obesity and heart disease.”

“At Hands of Grace, we see these health problems every day, and even more concerning is the number of local children experiencing the effects of poor nutrition.”

Through a grant from the Khurshed Bhumgara Fund, a fund of the Northwest Connecticut Community Foundation, Hands of Grace purchased a refrigerator for its food pantry enabling the organization to provide fresh fruits and vegetables from the Connecticut Food Bank and local farms to those they serve.
“Through the tablets [provided by a grant from the Carlton D. Fyler and Jenny R. Fyler Fund] home visitors can connect parents with employment, and help them access benefits from other community, state, and national resources.”

The all-volunteer Harwinton Land Conservation Trust has been hard at work planting trees and building bridges and boardwalk crossings to further their goals of preserving natural spaces and encouraging recreation and educational visits of those natural spaces by individuals, including families and older adults.

A recent grant from The Elson-Slemmer Fund for the Environment, a fund of the Northwest Connecticut Community Foundation, enabled the Land Trust to purchase the lumber and hardware, as well as signage materials needed to complete a two-mile scenic trail system through its Indian Meadow property.

“We try to make our trails easy and dry for seniors and families with young children,” said Bob Orciari, Harwinton Land Conservation Trust president.

“By providing public access and trails on our properties, people appreciate what the Land Trust does to improve life in Harwinton.”
Our goal is to develop teaching tools, curricula, lesson plans and teacher training that will allow us to extend the reach of the Civic Life Project. Thanks to the support of the Buchanan Fund and funding from individuals and other organizations, Civic Life has been able to offer its services to hundreds of students and educators.

Edward Diskavich lived a quiet life in a small home on Beverly Rd. in Torrington. He enjoyed a long life, passing away at the age of 94. Financially successful, Edward lived modestly and enjoyed managing his investments. But his greatest achievement, his legacy, was his investment in the future of Northwest Connecticut.

Through his estate planning, Edward established two endowed funds with the Community Foundation, a scholarship fund and a discretionary fund.

The Edward W. Diskavich Scholarship Fund provides annual scholarships to graduates of Oliver Wolcott Technical High School. In 2017-2018, the Fund awarded $21,500 to 19 Northwest Corner students pursuing college degrees in fields including mechanical engineering, biomedical sciences, and education.
Thank you for choosing me as a recipient of the Apolonia Stanulis Scholarship. I am very excited and grateful to be able to continue to pursue my academic career.”

SCHOLARSHIP AND ACADEMIC AWARD FUNDS are established to support educational purposes. Fundholders can restrict a scholarship fund to students attending a specific educational institution or pursuing specific courses of study. Community Foundation staff work with guidance counselors and coaches to locate eligible students, facilitate the application process and, with support from the all-volunteer scholarship committees, award recipients.

AGENCY FUNDS are established by nonprofits to support their charitable needs. The Community Foundation handles the management and stewardship of their charitable assets to enable a stable source of revenue for the nonprofit at a low cost. This frees the nonprofit and its board of directors to concentrate on the pursuit of the nonprofit’s charitable mission.
The Little Guild of St. Francis for the Welfare of Animals works to save unwanted, abused and neglected cats and dogs and provides medical care and enrichment to make them more adoptable. The Little Guild holds no-cost vaccine clinics and maintains a pet-food emergency pantry to support those who cannot afford to feed their pets.

The Little Guild of St. Francis agency funds, The Little Guild Endowment Fund and The Little Guild Operational Fund, support the charitable efforts of The Little Guild by providing for long-term needs and supporting operations.

Through a grant from the Edwin M. Stone and Edith H. Stone Fund and the Lucia Tuttle Fritz Fund, funds of the Northwest Connecticut Community Foundation, in 2018 The Little Guild provided spay and neuter vouchers to local families who could not afford the surgery for their pets.

Supporting Organizations are similar to private foundations in that they operate with a separate board of directors with grant-making responsibilities, but because they operate under the “umbrella” of the Community Foundation, they operate more efficiently and with the benefits of a public charity. Directors enjoy a high amount of involvement in their philanthropy while benefiting from the Community Foundation’s grant and investment expertise and administrative support.

Foundation For Community Health supports organizations that work to maintain and improve the physical and mental health of residents served by Sharon Hospital* and organizations that provide community healthcare services within those areas. *Canaan, Cornwall, Cornwall Bridge, Warren, East Canaan, Falls Village, Goshen, Kent, Lakeville, Lime Rock, Norfolk, Salisbury, Sharon, South Kent, Taconic, West Cornwall in Connecticut, as well as the New York communities of Amenia, Ancram, Ancramdale, Copake, Copake Falls, Dover Plains, Millbrook, Millerton, Pine Plains, Stanfordville, Wassaic and Wingdale.

In 2018, Foundation For Community Health awarded grants to the following organizations:

The John T. and Jane A. Wiederhold Foundation was created for the purpose of protecting and improving the welfare of animals of all kinds with a focus on cats and dogs, the promotion of veterinary programs, and the protection of wildlife, including endangered species, flora and fauna.

The Northwest Connecticut Community Foundation prides itself on providing prudent stewardship of a sizeable community endowment designed to benefit future generations of Northwest Connecticut citizens. Our investment objective is to maximize the endowment’s purchasing power by pursuing long-term investment results that exceed the annual spending policy—the amount needed for grants and expenses—plus inflation. This allows for sufficient and predictable growth to meet pressing community needs while providing capital preservation into the future.

The oversight and assessment of the Foundation’s investments are conducted by its Board of Directors and Investment Committee. Dedicated to the pursuit of strong returns within acceptable risk tolerances, the Investment Committee employs an asset-allocation strategy designed to capitalize on a well-diversified portfolio that performs well during a variety of market and economic conditions. In doing so, the Investment Committee considers past and expected future performance of available asset classes, including investment strategies of other community foundations, nonprofit endowments and charitable funds, along with a variety of widely accepted performance benchmarks.
